GARRISON RESTORED.

The "Scrapping" Jockey Forgiven at McLaughlin's Request.

A Big Crowd Attends the Brooklyn Jockey Club Races.

Cyclops, Brown Duke, Larchmont, Fides, Taviston and Marsh Redon Won.

GRAVESHD TRACK, May 21.—A rumor that bott Garrison and Fitzpatrick, the jockeys who were fined and ruled off the track a few days ago, were reinstated, and that the "Scrapper," as he must now be called, would ride McMahon a Co.'s chestint horse Cyclops, in which he has a half interest, it the first race, was buased about on the early train and boats to the sixth day of the Brooklyn Joskey Club's meeting. The crowds that carse sown rushed on the boats and trains as if the last chance of a paradise was about to be suddenly snatched from them. Helter skelter piled the enthusiastic lovers of fast horses of both sexes through the gates at the track, for it was the first fair day and course of the meet-Supt. Brush had a small army of workers on the track all day Sunday, and there was no let up in the work of the revolving barrows, which two or three teams of norses dragged around he one-mile circuit till a few minutes before the bell rang for the first race. The track was far hetter than on any previous day of the spring meetg, but still it needed more drying out to make it ang, but still it needed more drying out to make it a really fast one. Mr. Brush said he thought he arguly fast one. Mr. Brush said he thought hy the call for the sixth race.

The paddock was invaded by anxious betters, who were eager to know about the reinstatement of the jockeys. Every trainer, owner, lockey and track official was builtonholed for fasts. The Exceptive Committee, which awaited the strival of Mr. Haggin, thisty decided to temper justice with metry and allow the la/s to ride. A petition, which had Jimmy Mr.Laughin's aignature among its sixty-two names, is said to have been an influence. 'S My Goorge, they are reinstated, 'was the cury, as Garrison's name went up on the board opposite No. It in the list for the first race.

The Baca.—Fully 15,000 speciators watched the races as they managevered over near the five furious post for the hest of the start. They were a guidy field of good ohes. Beasse June and Wheat being the only one scratched. There were a full forces fulled breakmays when the flag fell to a bunched start. Britiannic having slightly the best of it. Monmouth got to the fore speedily and held it round the northern turns into the straight, where he was hastled by Garrison on Cycloys. Pocatielle made a game effort, but could only finish third, two lengths behind Monmouth, who was second.

The arrangements were under the direction of Mr. Ben Taylor, of THE WORLD's delivery department, who acted as grand marshal of

At 'precisely 9 o'clock the long line started from THE WORLD Building. It was preceded by three big coaches, which had been kindly lent for the occasion by W. J. Riordan, the Seventh Ward livery-stable man, and which were reserved for the members of the two b all nines and a big brass band from Clinton street.

The cavalcade started off to the inspiring strains of the trumpets and the yells of the boys, and they shouted as only half a thousand happy, light-hearted boys can shout when they know they are going off on a "boss racket."

The crowds on the sidewalks of the thoroughfares hurrying to their business stopped to see the boys off, and gave a responsive cheer as the gay procession moved up the street.

The route was up the Bowery and Third avenue to One Hundred and Tenth street and thence to the Polo Grounds. and thence to the Polo Grounds.

There were fully three thousand boys at the Polo Grounds when the deputation from The World office arrived. They enjoyed the game thoroughly. One boy in the grand stand, to be sure, tried to catch a foul tip on the end of his nose, and retired discomfited, but otherwise there was no disturbance of the peace.

Before the game was called both nines were photographed, with as many of the crowd as could squeeze within range of the camera.

The weather was all that could be desired and the field was in excellent condition. The playing of both nines throughout the game, especially of the batteries, was something remarkable.

Although the nines have been in training only for a short time, they stuck to their work with the steadiness of professionals, and the score shows the style of the general play.

Play was called at 10.45 o'clock, with the Brooklyn boys at the bat. Sullivan, the first batter, was thrown out at first by Mayer, and Burns, who made a pop hit, was thrown Hatch's body in the yard of the Scofield house on Tuesday, May, will be briefly retold, and Mme. Fanny, Policeman McCormick, D. C. Ferris, Lillian Scofield and others will repeat the story of the events of the day and night preceding the tragedy.

There, it is generally believed, the case will end. Judge Lawrence's order for the release of Mrs. Scofield, made on Friday with the consent of the District-Attorney, was an indication that in the cominon of the public prosecutor no crime has been committed, and that the Grand Jury will not be aske to indict.

Assistant District-Attorney Lindsay, who has charge of the case, said to-day that the matter would go before the Grand Jury as a mere formality, so as to clear up the record.

The parties whose names have been so prominent in the case have developed an intense desire for privacy and seclusion. Mrs. Lillian Scofield is staying with friends at 1420 Broadway, but her servant is instructed to tell all visitors that she is not there.

The unfortunate Mr. Scofield is boarding in West Eleventh street, between Fifth avenue and University place. D. C. Ferris has remained at his home. 277 West Seventy-first street, since Friday. He is out on ball, but his lawyer, Jerome Buck, will take to-day the same measures for his final release as were successfully taken by Delancy Nicoll on behalf of Mrs. Scofield.

QUINN'S ACTION DENOUNCED.

MEMBERS OF 49 DISGUSTED WITH THE PRESENT STATE OF AFFAIRS.

They Say That Quinn Was in a Minority of 1 to 9 at Yesterday's Meeting, and that He Applied the Gag-Law to His Opponents-The Merting Could Have Gone On Without the Charter.

The chief topic of conversation this morning among workingmen was District Assembly No. 49's meeting yesterday, which was one of the most extraordinary and unprecedented as well as one of the most exciting which that noted body has ever held.

The scene that characterized the proceedings subsequent to the withdrawal of Master Workman James E. Quinn with the charter in his possession is said to have been extremely turbulent and almost fraught with the disruption of the organization.

This morning's edition of THE WORLD gave a statement of the case concerning the action of the District Court in suspending Master a statement of the case concerning the action of the District Court in suspending Master Workman Quinn, Timothy Quinn and P. C. McGure, sr., from Local Assembly No. 2,234, or the Americus Labor Club, for alleged violation of the laws of the order in refusing admission to the local to William Martin, who presented a "travelling card."

It is said to-day by Mr. James E. Quinn's opponents that there was an overwhelming majority against him, and that knowing it, he applied gag law in the meeting and shut off discussion from his opposers, while he gave his friends an opportunity to defend him.

A delegate said: "There were nine to one against Quinn in the meeting. The proceedings of the Court were regular and in strict accordance with the laws of the order. There is no dodging the judgment of the District Court by lawful means, but Quinn and his friends have resorted to questionable means and are making a desperate struggle to maintain their positions and the control which they have beld so long. But, I tell you, they will have to submit to the inevitable."

A reliable authority on the laws of the Knights said: "The meeting of yesterday could have been continued after a delay of fifteen minutes—time enough to obtain the seals of five local assemblies. These seals could have been put in place of the charter carried away by Master Workman Quinn, and the Worthy Foreman could have conducted the proceedings hawfully under them.

"But it was deemed best to postpone further action until next Sunday, when we will go on with the work in the way I have described, unless the Master Workman appears with the charter.

"We are not going to be bulldozed by sus-them.

"The spectacle is presented now of the old-time friends of James E. Quinn discovering the questionable methods of his backering the question him more bitterly than they ers and opposing him more bitterly than they

Next Sunday's meeting of 49 is looked for-ward to with the livelest interest. Some question whether the Master Workman will attempt to preside, and others declare that if he does, a scene more exciting than yester-will occur.

Master Workman Quinn did not appear at Master Workman Quinn did not appear at Pythagoras Hail to-day, as is customary with him, and efforts to find him failed.

Delegate Kearney, of No. 49, said: "A decision was rendered about two months age by the General Master Workman that a local assembly can refuse admission to any one bearing a travelling card if the bearer of the card is objectionable to it. Therefore an appeal to the District Court in the case of Martin was illegal."

LABOR'S WATCHDOG ON GUARD.

The Central Body Discusses the Beer Boycett and Other Matters. The Central Labor Union occupied two ours of its time in discussing, in executive ession, the question of raising the boycott session, the question of raising the boycott on pool beer. This proposition, first anhounced in The Evening World, was urged strongly, so it is said, by leading delegates, but, in spite of the fact that semi-official assurances were given that all the locked-out brewerymen would be taken back if the boycott were raised, and also of the fact that the Brocklyn Central Labor Union had raised the boycott, the matter was finally left as it was. One delegate put in thus: "We have resolved to continue to recommend everybody to drink union beer. We don't say 'boycott pool beer.'" to drink union beer. We don't say 'boycott pool beer.'"

Another important matter was the renewal of the discussion of the question of the mutual recognition of cards by the Knights of Labor and the union men laid over from last Sunday. The proposition was voted down by laying it on the table by 40 to 24.

Solidarity was denounced for sustaining the pool brewers.

The Arbitration Committee was instructed to attend to the matter of the employment of non-union men and boats by the Cedar Hill, Sunnyside. Watervilet and Hazelwood Ice companies, in accordance with the request of the international Icemen's Union.

The Bakery Wagon-Drivers' Union was admitted to representation in the Food Producers' Section. The Cornice and Skylight Makers' Union and the Hearts of Oak Association of shoe salesmen were rejected. The Mattress-Makers' Union applied for admission.

The resolutions submitted at the previous

Mattress-Makers' Union applied for addission.

The resolutions submitted at the previous meeting by the Rev. W. F. Crafts, providing for the abolishment of Sunday labor and shortening the hours of work, were unanimously adopted.

The committee appointed to settle the difficulty between Typographical Union No. 6 and Typographia No. 7 were suthorized to proceed with the negotiations at once.

The Clothing Trades Section will meet to-night The Executive Council of the American Federa-tion of Labor will meet in Philadelphia to-morrow. German trades unionists in Brooklyn propose to continue the boycotting of pool beer in spite of the action of the Brooklyn Central Labor Union. The building trades attached to District Assembly No. 49 wast a separate charter for a new district, but the question has been raised as to the legality of granting one. OTHER GAMES. League Games.
